Grid system

Use our powerful mobile-first flexbox grid to build layouts of all shapes and sizes thanks to a twelve column system, five default responsive tiers, Sass variables and mixins, and dozens of predefined classes.

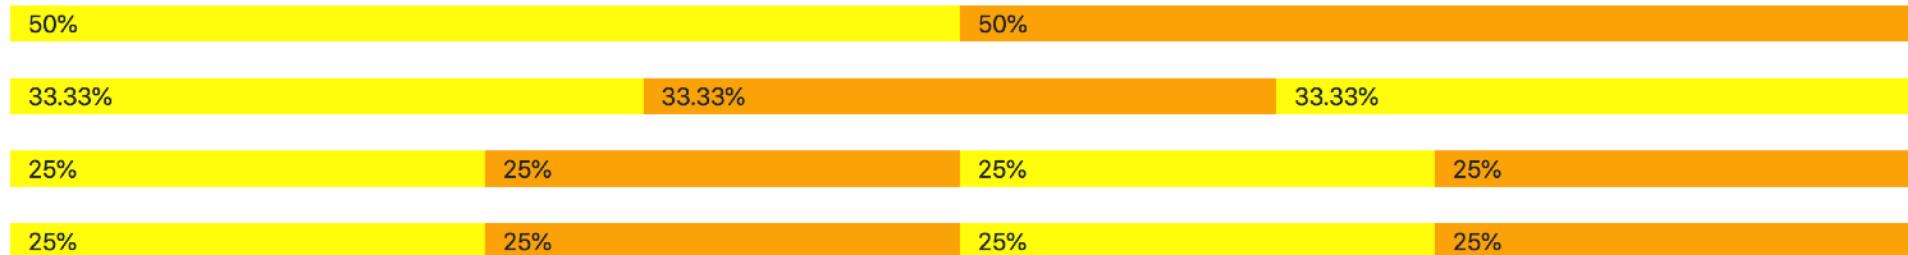

How it works

Bootstrap's grid system uses a series of containers, rows, and columns to layout and align content. It's built with flexbox and is fully responsive.

Basic Grid Structure

Resize the browser window to see the effect.

The first, second and third row will automatically stack on top of each other when the screen is too small:

Overview

Components and options for laying out your Bootstrap project, including wrapping containers, a powerful grid system, a flexible media object, and responsive utility classes.

Containers

Containers are the most basic layout element in Bootstrap and are required when using our default grid system. Choose from a responsive, fixed-width container (meaning its `max-width` changes at each breakpoint) or fluid-width (meaning it's `100%` wide all the time).

Components

Alerts

Provide contextual feedback messages for typical user actions with the handful of available and flexible alert messages.

Examples

Alerts are available for any length of text, as well as an optional dismiss button. For proper styling, use one of the eight required contextual classes (e.g., `.alert-success`). For inline dismissal, use the alerts jQuery plugin.

Bootstrap “spinners” can be used to show the loading state in your projects. They’re built only with HTML and CSS, meaning you don’t need any JavaScript to create them. You will, however, need some custom JavaScript to toggle their visibility. Their appearance, alignment, and sizing can be easily customized with our amazing utility classes.

For accessibility purposes, each loader here includes `role="status"` and a nested `Loading...`.

The main workspace displays a landing page with a blue header bar featuring a logo ('BRAND'), navigation links ('Features', 'Pricing', 'Product'), and a 'Contact us' button. Below the header is a large, stylized background image with overlapping blue and grey shapes. In the center, there's a section with the heading 'I am so happy' and a quote: 'A wonderful serenity has taken possession of my entire soul, like these sweet mornings of spring which I enjoy with my whole heart. I am alone.' Below this is a form with a placeholder 'Your email' and a green 'Subscribe' button. To the right, there's a 'Reserve a spot' form with fields for 'Name' (placeholder 'Type here'), 'Time' (placeholder '---:--- ---'), 'People' (value '2'), and a 'Made with Pingendo Free' button. On the left, a sidebar contains icons for file operations like 'New', 'Open', 'Save', and 'Delete', as well as sections for 'THEME' and 'PAGE'. On the right, a 'SELECTION' panel shows a tree view of the page structure: BODY -> NAVBAR -> SECTION (which is highlighted with a red box). The 'SETTINGS' tab is selected in the panel on the right, which includes sections for 'Backgrounds' (with 'Image' and 'URL' set to 'url("https://static.pin...")'), 'Box shadows', 'Text shadows', 'Sizes', 'Transform', and 'Border'. The 'CSS' tab is also visible.
